

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

The present invention describes a cosmetics case for 5 storing cosmetics in powder state such as foundation product ensuring convenient and stable use thereof.

The cosmetics case includes a receptacle shape of body formed with thresholds and a cover connected to the body having hook grooves corresponding to the thresholds, both of the 10 thresholds and the hook grooves being engaged together and separated each other to allow the cover to be easily and conveniently opened and closed. In addition to, the present cosmetic case has a cosmetic aids fixed and integrated on bottom portion of the cover, whereby the user can open the cover and 15 hold a knob of the cover at the same time, and conveniently apply make-up in a stable position.